Allied Surprise Field Army Forces to Carry War to Foe

Total Ships Sunk Or Damaged in Five Day Battle is 36

BULLETIN
London, Jan. 28.—(P)—The Japanese lost about one-third of an invading force of 40 planes today in an attempt to raid Rangoon, Burma, Reuters reported, quoting unofficial sources.

Giant American four-motor bombers, smashing anew at a Japanese invasion armada in Macassar Strait, sank a big transport, set another afire and straddled a cruiser with sticks of bombs, it was officially announced today.

A war department bulletin said a formation of eight U. S. army bombers engaged in the attack, in which one of the bombers was lost.

A direct hit was scored on the cruiser.

Pounding home Japan's greatest naval disaster of the war, United States fliers thus boosted to at least 26 the number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged in a five-day battle.

Macassar Strait, the roadway to Java, headquarters of General Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command, lies between Dutch East Borneo and Celebes Island.

An N. E. I. communique acknowledged that the Japanese had apparently occupied the burned-out oil center of Balikpapan, East Borneo port on Macassar Strait.

It was apparent, however, that the invaders had been lured into a deadly trap, set by the Dutch more than a week ago when they announced that Balikpapan's great oil fields had been destroyed and implied that land defenses had been withdrawn.

In accepting the "invitation," the Japanese armada unwarily sailed into a hornet's nest of Allied submarines, bombers and surface warcraft. No immediate estimate was available on the loss of Japanese lives, which presumably ran into the thousands.

On the far Pacific land front, Japan's invasion forces drove perilously closer to Singapore today as wavering British defense lines executed a new withdrawal, less than 50 miles north of the island stronghold, amid the heaviest fighting of the Malayan campaign.

A British spokesman said that Japanese troops knifing southward from the Klang sector, in central Malaya, were pressing the nearest threat to Singapore.

The Dutch conceded loss of communication with the city of Kendari, on the southeast coast of Celebes island, but declared that

Old Frontier Dispute Between Peru and Ecuador, Which Was Believed To Have Been Settled, Stumbles on Eleventh-Hour Obstacles Once Again Threatening Hopes of Parley Adjournment

BRAZIL BREAKS WITH THE ALLIED POWERS

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 28.—(P)—President Getulio Vargas today signed a decree breaking Brazil's diplomatic and commercial relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 28.—(P)—The 100-year old boundary dispute between Peru and Ecuador, which was believed last night to have been settled, stumbled on 11th hour obstacles once again today, threatening hopes for a harmonious adjournment of the 12-day war conference of American foreign ministers.

Announcement of a settlement, made yesterday by Brazilian Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha, and a Brazilian break with the Axis had been foreseen for a festive windup today.

Delegates of the mediator nations still tried to keep the agreement achieved in countless parleys with the disputing nations, from falling apart.

United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles held an early morning meeting at his hotel with Ecuadorian Foreign Minister Julio Tobar Donoso and then rushed to a conference with Alfredo Sotz V. Muro, premier of Peru.

The difficulties were said to have arisen because of Ecuador's dissatisfaction with the text of a settlement protocol drafted last night.

Observers said they believed that only the formality of notifying Axis envoys of the action of Brazil's cabinet in voting a severance of relations remained after a meeting of President Getulio Vargas and his ministers at the summer capital of Petropolis last night.

Aranha said that the Peru-Ecuador agreement, sought to end sporadic border warfare over 2,800 square miles of the upper Amazon jungles, would be signed at the (Turn to Page Nine)

Twelve Survivors and One Body Landed at Chincoteague, Va., After Seventeen are Taken To Norfolk

CAPTAIN IS MISSING

BULLETIN
An Eastern Canadian Port, Jan. 28.—(P)—Belief that a German submarine mother ship had released a pack of U-boats off the north American east coast was expressed today by survivors of a Norwegian tanker and a Greek freighter, sunk in the western Atlantic with a possible loss of 31 lives.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 28.—(P)—Twelve survivors and the body of at least one crew member of the torpedoed tanker Francis E. Powel have been landed at Chincoteague and will be brought to Norfolk this afternoon, the Fifth Naval District announced today.

This accounted for at least 30 of the tanker's normal complement of 32 men. The ship was torpedoed off the east coast early yesterday.

Seventeen survivors were put ashore at Lewes, Del., last night after having spent seven hours in a lifeboat. They told of seeing a companion lifeboat smashed by a wave against the ship's side, and sailors hurled into the sea.

Off the Virginia coast this morning, coast guardsmen picked up 11 of the survivors and one body (Turn to Page Nine)

PRICE BILL AWAITING SIGNATURE

War Production Board Delegates to Acting Price Administrator Henderson Full Powers To Ration Retail Commodities, Only Short Time Before Senate Completes Action on Measure

FURTHER RATIONING IS CALLED "INEVITABLE"

Washington, Jan. 28.—(P)—Everything that Americans buy at the stores became liable to rationing today, and legal price fixing was only one short step away.

The War Production Board delegated to acting Price Administrator Leon Henderson full power to ration retail commodities, only a short time before the senate completed congressional action yesterday on a much-amended price control bill and sent it to President Roosevelt.

Democratic leaders said they expected the chief executive to sign the measure, although some of its farm price sections were known to be distasteful to him.

The capital generally conceded that Henderson would be retained in the price administration post he now holds by virtue of an executive order.

Further rationing, the WPE board observed, "seems inevitable."

Signature of the price fixing measure will not necessarily mean an immediate flood of price-fixing orders, said one of Henderson's lieutenants, who declared that situations will be met as they arise.

The scope of price control is enlarged tremendously by the new provisions.

A single administrator is authorized to fix price maximums on selected commodities whenever he believes prices are excessive.

Except as to farm prices, the levels between October 1 and 15, 1941, would be used as standard. Before farm prices could be limited, they could rise to 110 per cent of parity, the average price between 1919-29, or the level on Oct. 1 or Dec. 15, 1941.

Rent maximums, with April 1, 1941, charges as a standard, also could be ordered in crowded defense areas.

Thousands Dying In Greece From Famine

Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 28.—(P)—Famine conditions in Greece are so acute that 2,000 persons died in Athens alone in a single day and bread sells for $15 a loaf, the Journal De Geneve reported today.

The paper quoted an anonymous letter dated Dec. 9, 1941, from a writer in Greece as the source of its information.

"People of the streets all are like skeletons and on every corner people are lying down," the letter said. "The winter is especially intense and there is no wood."

"Only the richest can afford available food, with bread selling at $15 a loaf."

LONG TERM STRATEGY REVEALED

Disclosures of President, Churchill and Congressional Leaders Give Broad Outlines of Land-Sea Victory Plan for Expeditions to Strike Suddenly Across Any Ocean

SPECIAL TYPE VESSELS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Washington, Jan. 28.—(P)—Another big Japanese transport has fallen victim to American army bombers in the battle of Macassar Strait, the war department reported today, while long range plans for surprise army expeditions by the United States Nation began to take shape.

The department's morning communique, No. 80 of the war, said that one of our eight heavy bombers participating in the attack had been lost, but added that a direct hit had been scored on a Japanese cruiser.

Whether this action was separate from a similar one recounted by the United Nations high command at Batavia, in the Netherlands East Indies, was not definitely known.

Washington discussions of the developing land-sea, long-term plan of the United States and Britain were based on indications gleaned from official statements.

Disclosures of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and congressional leaders gave broad outlines of the plan and congress rushed legislation to carry it out.

The house passed 388 to 0, and sent to the senate last night the $17,722,565,475 naval appropriations bill, including a special emergency provision for the developing amphibious strategy.

The bill provides $2,900,000,000 for emergency construction of 1,789 special vessels. The house naval committee disclosed in a report that this provision would give "the necessary ships with which (Turn to Page Nine)

Russian Dispatches Report Recapture of 79 More Towns

By the Associated Press
Russia's armies, pressing their great winter counter-offensive, were reported surging forward unchecked today on the threshold of a 250-mile German defense line northwest and southwest of Moscow.

Soviet dispatches reported the recapture of 79 more towns and indicated that Adolf Hitler's retreating invaders were falling back upon a double-row defense system, a mile and a half in depth, extending from Vellik Luki to Vyazma to Bryansk.

Vellik Luki is only 80 miles from the Latvian frontier.

On the North African front, British headquarters said Gen. Erwin Rommel's Axis armies, which shovelled the British back 150 miles in three days, had been stopped for two days and had apparently come to an impasse in their counter-drive.

Axis versions of the struggle differed. While Hitler's headquarters noted merely "reconnaissance activity on both sides" in the Libyan desert, Premier Mussolini's high command asserted that the British were continuing to retreat eastward.

On the Crimea front, a German war bulletin asserted that Russian reinforcements landed on the (Turn to Page Nine)

OVER 300 LOST IN TORPEDOING OF ALLIED SHIP

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Jan. 28.—(P)—The torpedoing of an Allied steamer was reported today by a ship captain who announced on his arrival here that he had rescued 71 of the crew and passengers, but indicated that more than 350 persons were missing.

The rescue ship officer, Captain Helgeson, of the New York to Puerto Rico Steamer Camo, said he picked up the survivors last Friday night, five days after the steamer had been struck twice by torpedoes and sunk.

The position of the attack was not given.

The Allied steamer was reported to have had about 450 persons aboard, a crew of 100 and some 350 passengers.

Captain Helgeson said all the survivors were taken from a single lifeboat intended to accommodate 63 persons. In all, 76 had crowded into the boat, but five died during their five days adrift.

The steamer was said to have been attacked without warning, the first torpedo striking No. 2 hatch on the port side just forward of the mainmast.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Jan. 28.—(P)—Capt. Alva Bernhardt, commander of the naval air station here, said today that a submarine, "doubtless German," had been sighted about 15 miles from Port Aransas this morning and there was a probability that another was nearby.

Port Arthur, Tex., Jan. 28.—(P)—The navy announced today a submarine had been sighted 15 miles southeast of Aransas, Tex., at 9 a. m.

"It was not determined whether it was an enemy submarine, but it is presumed it is," said the report from the office of Commander R. R. Ferguson, navy port director for Port Arthur.

34 LOSE LIVES IN EXPLOSION IN COLORADO MINE

Mount Harris, Colo., Jan. 28.—(P)—Thirty-four miners perished in an explosion in the Victor American Fuel Company coal mine late last night. Only four men escaped alive.

Black damp, deadly carbon dioxide gas, filled the shaft after the blast and impeded the work of rescue crews, unable to reach the victims for nearly six hours.

Nearly every family in this small mining community 200 miles northwest of Denver had relatives employed in the mine.

Mine Superintendent Henry Johnson said the 34 men were trapped about 5,500 feet inside the tunnel of the mine, which slopes at an angle of about 10 degrees into Mount Harris.

The four who escaped were working nearer the entrance. They heard the blast and fled.

Report Is Made On Luxury Liner Crash

Los Angeles, Jan. 28.—(P)—Neither sabotage nor mechanical difficulty caused the Transcontinental and Western Air Transport crash which killed actress Carole Lombard, 15 fliers pilots and six other persons, reports Rep. Jack Nichols, chairman of a house committee to investigate air accidents.

Nichols, in an informal preliminary report issued early today, stated that Capt. Wayne Williams, pilot of the plane, was discharged by TWA eight years ago for insubordination, but was reinstated quickly by order of the national labor board.

Washington, Jan. 28.—(P)—The NRA National Labor Board, predecessor of the present Labor Relations Board, ordered reinstatement of Phil Wayne C. Williams on Oct. 5, 1932 after ruling that the reasons advanced by Transcontinental and Western Air for dismissing him were not justified.

CHURCHILL WILL BE GIVEN VOTE

London, Jan. 28.—(P)—The government was accused today of misleading the country with "childish inconsistency" and unfulfilled promises of security in the Pacific war area, but, in almost the same breath, Prime Minister Churchill's critics in the house of commons assured him the vote of confidence that he demands.

Starting the second day of debate over the government's war leadership, launched yesterday with the prime minister's accounting to parliament and the nation, Clement Attlee, his lieutenant in the house, formally proposed the vote of confidence.

Labor members decided by a large majority to support it, but there were signs that some might abstain and that a few might even vote against the government. Liberals were reported also to have decided to support him.

AEF In Ireland Learning How To Behave In Case Of Nazi Air Raid

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Jan. 28.—(P)—Prime Minister John M. Andrews told parliament here today that Eamon De Valera, prime minister of Eire, had no right to protest the arrival of United States troops in Ulster (Northern Ireland).

(De Valera contended that the debarkation of U. S. troops on the northern side of the border emphasized the split which led to the partition of Ireland in 1921; was carried out "despite the expressed will of the Irish people"; and his government was not consulted.)

BY WILLIAM B. KING
Somewhere in Northern Ireland, Jan. 28.—(P)—United States troops newly established in Northern Ireland were called from their beds before dawn today to begin learning the business of what to do and how to behave in case of a Nazi air raid.

Their first day in camp yesterday was free for the men to settle down in their new surroundings and rest from a tiring ocean trip. But when the bugle sounded this morning it meant that an arduous training program was being resumed.

Officials do not conceal their concern that the German air force may attempt to give the troops in the new encampments a taste of bombing.

FEW PUPILS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS GOING TO WORK

While reports show some pupils in the upper grades of the local public schools have left to take jobs, there is no rush to defense plants on the part of students here, according to Superintendent of Schools John G. Rossman.

A comparison of pupils leaving school this year with the number in previous years shows the total to be about the same, he stated. At the same time it was announced that the enrollment at the start of the second semester this week was 2,947, a decrease of only four from the number of pupils enrolled at the start of the second semester a year ago.

There has been a steady decline in enrollment in recent years. In 1939-40 the mid-year enrollment was 3,091, in 1938-39 it was 3,209 and in 1937-38, 3,195.

COMMANDER IS APPOINTED FOR 28TH DIVISION

The new commander of Pennsylvania's 28th Division, which includes the members of Warren's Company I, 112th Infantry, is Brigadier General J. Garesche Ord, a soldier of 33 years of intensive, varied experience whose paternal forbears for three generations were U. S. Army officers.

The War Department announced that General Ord has relieved Major General Edward Martin, who has been assigned to special duty at Fifth Corps Area headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

General Ord is 55, a native of Fort Lewis, Colo. This is not General Ord's first contact with the 28th Division. In the summer of 1940 he served as instructor of the 28th National Guard Division area at Harrisburg.

Graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1909, he was promoted to first lieutenant in 1916, to captain in 1917, to major (temporary) in 1918, and reverted to a captaincy in 1920. Later in the same year, however, he was made a major, advanced to a lieutenant colonel in 1934, to colonel in 1938 and to brigadier general (temporary) on October 1, 1940.

General Ord served at the presidio of San Francisco, in Alaska at Plattsburg-Barracks, N. Y., and on the Texas border. He taught military science and tactics at Culver Military School and then sailed for France as captain in October, 1917. He observed French and British battle fronts in Flanders until November, then reported at general headquarters, A. E. F.

Subsequently he took part in the Champagne-Marne defense, and the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives. He then served as an aide to Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett and on corps and army staff duties in France and Germany until his return to the United States in September, 1919.

Ord was graduated from the field officers' course at the infantry school, Fort Benning, Ga., in 1922, and completed the course at the command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kas., as an honor graduate in 1924. Then he served as an instructor there for four years, entered the Army War College in Washington and as director of the infantry board at Fort Benning. In 1928 he went to the Philippines in command of the 57th Infantry, remaining until June, 1940, when he was sent to Harrisburg. In October, 1940, he was assigned to the First Division at Fort Hamilton, N. Y.

Chapter One

Wise Guy

SHARON ran the last block to the office. Being on time was one of Mr. Goodwin's "musts" and she had exactly four and a half minutes. Clutching her smart new green felt, she rounded the corner into the teeth of a boisterous March wind. If she hadn't stopped to quarrel with Dennis this morning, she wouldn't have missed that bus. Her quarrels were getting to be a habit, too. Of course, both having tempers like their hot-headed Irish ancestors didn't help any. But the row this morning hadn't been any ordinary brother-and-sister scrap.

Dennis was so unreasonable about being poor. Naturally he couldn't earn much at his gas station job. And she wasn't making enough to buy any top hats. Grimly, she shouldered against the heavy glass-paneled door. But somehow she had to make him see that poker and shooting dice weren't the answer. And traveling around with that crowd he'd found so thrilling lately. Dennis was so young and so terribly head-strong. Of course, if Dad had lived things would be different.

Her high heels clicked smartly against the stone floor as she crossed the foyer. Pat, the red-headed elevator boy, held his door for her.

"Top of the morning to you, Miss Doyle," he grinned. And you can relax now. The Colonel ain't here yet."

"Thanks, Pat," she panted. That was a break. It was only a few seconds after nine but Mr. Goodwin was seldom late. He'd been raised, someone had told her, by a retired Army captain grandfathers the training had left an indelible stamp on his bearing, his dress, his habits. It was part of his distinctive charm.

The elevator rocketed to the eleventh floor. Sharon pulled off her hat as she sped down the long, marbled hall. The door to Sierra Steel, Inc. Harvey Goodwin, Pres., was still locked.

"Thank Heaven," she gasped aloud. "Now if I haven't lost my key," and snapped open her long envelope bag.

Compact, lipstick, her driver's license, gloves—everything but a key. "Damn," she muttered, poking at the bag frantically.

"Maybe you left it home in your other pants," a deep voice suggested over her shoulder.

Sharon whirled. The compact clattered to the floor, the key careening dizzily down the hall leaving a woolly little wake of white powder.

Calmly, the tall young man who'd been propped against a window ledge, retrieved the compact, dropped it into her open bag. Then, deliberately, he took the bag from her hand.

"Let me try." Smiling, his dark eyes were intent on her face as he coolly emptied the contents of her purse into one large well-shaped hand. The key came out on top.

"Oh—thank you," Sharon managed, recovering her voice and clutching at her dignity too.

"Suppose we see if it's the right one." Turning, he unlocked the door, swung it wide. "Shucks, I was really hoping it was the key to your flat."

"I don't have a flat," Sharon reached for the bag he still held. "Besides, it's none of—"

"A penthouse, then?" His smile teased her and revealed nice white teeth.

"No—nor a penthouse. Please give me my bag." An igloo, maybe, he persisted. "You must live somewhere. Or aren't you even real?"

Harvey Goodwin stopped short.

bad luck to be had already. Besides, if this smart young chap would mind his own business—"It does sound ridiculous, doesn't it," he was saying. "A dream walking and stuff. They write songs about things like this. Your black hair and your big blue eyes and a brow like a snow-drift. Just what they said about Kathleen Macvourneen wasn't it?"

"That was Annie Laurie," Sharon flushed in spite of herself. "And I have to go to work. So please go."

Her dignity riding a little askew, she stepped past him, her head high, her pretty mouth a straight line. She crossed to her desk just outside the door marked "Private." The young man followed right at her heels.

"Well," she turned to him. "Did you want something?"

Gravely, he laid a key in her hand. "You forgot your key."

"Thank you. And now hadn't you better leave?"

"Do you work here?"—ignoring her question.

"Certainly."

"And what do you do?" Sharon drew herself up to all her five feet three. "I am private secretary to Mr. Harvey Goodwin, President of Sierra Steel—if it's any of your business."

"It isn't, or wasn't rather until a few minutes ago." Calmly, he sat down on the edge of her desk. "But seeing you makes a difference—a tremendous difference. You're much too young to be a private secretary."

"Well—really—" "You have to be old and homely and soured on life. A pretty little kid like you should be going to school or having coming-out parties or being painted into a picture."

"Will you stop wasting time here and—"

"My dear young lady, I assure you this is no waste of time." He pulled out a package of cigarettes, offered her one.

mindful him coldly, despising herself for not being able to put this man in his place. "Not a Bureau for Lonely Hearts. Suppose you state your business."

"Gladly. It's about a date. Say for lunch today at the Palace. How about it?"—and smiled as if the idea were brilliant and original.

"Certainly not."

"What do you mean 'certainly not'? Don't you like the Palace? The St. Francis, then. Or Fior d'Italia."

"No, note the St. Francis—or—or the city dump. Now please get out of here before Mr. Goodwin—"

As if speaking his name had conjured him out of thin air, Sharon heard Mr. Goodwin's quick step in the hall, saw the door swing open. Embarrassment surged into her cheeks like a hot tide.

Mr. Goodwin stopped short when he saw them. And Sharon, terribly aware of her crimson cheeks, of the tall young man in tweeds still perched on her desk so chummily, wished the floor would swallow her.

"Good morning," Mr. Goodwin smiled suddenly, came toward them.

"G—good morning, Mr. Goodwin," Sharon stammered. "This man is—this gentleman is—"

"Getting acquainted with your very charming secretary," the stranger finished smoothly, and inviting her to lunch.

All Wrong! Mr. Goodwin actually nodded approval. "A nice idea, Stafford. Only it happens that Miss Doyle is having luncheon with me, today. Some other time she'd be delighted, I know."

Sharon stared at him, not sure she wasn't dreaming all this. "You're prompt, Stafford," Goodwin went on. "Glad to see you again."

Stafford! Not Thomas W. Stafford, electrical engineer and technical expert being sent from the Pittsburgh branch? Mr. Goodwin had been expecting him for more than a week. But of course this smart aleck wasn't old enough to have acquired all the degrees and recommendations Mr. Stafford's letters mentioned.

Furious, Sharon permitted herself a cool nod. He might have told her in the first place. All his wise-cracking about—"Now if you'll just step into my office, Stafford, we'll get down to cases."

"Good." Tom tossed his hat onto a filing cabinet. Then as he passed Sharon's desk, "How about dinner tonight?" he said in a stage whisper. Then, hastily, "We could take Goodwin along if you insist."

"No, thank you."

"Good." He nodded. "I prefer a twosome myself. I'll pack you up about eight," and still grinning closed the door before she could answer.

Seething, Sharon stripped the cover off her typewriter. Honor graduate of Massachusetts Tech and the best electrical engineer they had. She spun a sheet of white paper under the platen. He looked more like the college cheer leader or the campus "catch." He was good-looking enough for either if you went in for tweeds and tall ranginess—which Sharon didn't, definitely.

Her fingers fled while with part of her mind she transcribed her shorthand notes and with the other thought about Tom Stafford. He was going to be a nuisance. She could see that now. If she'd only had wit enough to guess who it was, she might have avoided that silly scene in the hall. That had gotten her off to a bad start.

Goodwin had chosen her out of all the stenographers in the plant office because, he'd said, she had the necessary dignity for the position. And now the first chance she had to show she was equal to any situation, he found her flushed and stammering like a school girl.

And Tom Stafford had thoroughly enjoyed the whole thing. He should care if it lost her the break of a lifetime. Her fingers tripped and the keys went into a huddle. Damn Tom Stafford. She ripped the page out of the machine. She wished she might rip him out of her mind as easily. Instead, she was going to have to work practically cheek by jowl with him for the next few months. Breaking that mirror this morning, had certainly started things off.

Mr. Goodwin's buzzer sounded. Instantly her wits fell into rank. Sharp pencil; her notebook; the letters he had dictated late yesterday—she checked everything swiftly.

"Thank you, Goodwin. Glad to be here."

The two men were shaking hands.

"You've met Miss Doyle, I see," Goodwin said casually.

Tom Stafford grinned at her. "Yes, it's been charming, Miss Doyle."

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN MINSTREL SHOW

Unusual interest is being evidenced, by members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, in the arrival of the Show Boat with an all-star cast of minstrel performers at the church tomorrow evening.

According to Director Preston Hoskins, the audience will be treated to a first rate production, done in the inimitable negro style, when the curtain rises at 8:00 p. m. tomorrow.

In addition to the minstrel show, other entertainment will be furnished on the lower "deck" of the boat. Mrs. Ralph Sires and a committee of active workers are responsible for the sparkling entertainment that will follow the minstrel.

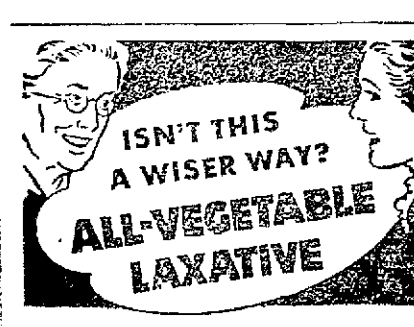

While much of it is in the nature of a surprise there will be songs and music; also a quartette, under the direction of Mrs. Warren Carlin, comprised of Mrs. Neil Woodruff, Mrs. C. P. DeLong, Mrs. Nestore Bartholomew and Miss Hulda Angermann.

During the course of the evening's pleasant voyage a capable committee, headed by Mrs. Kenneth W. Davis, will serve refreshments to all who make the trip. Her committee consists of the Mrs. Otto Peterson, Donald E. McComas, Carl Eorker, C. L. Thompson, William Cannon, Clayton Ransom, Homer Swick, K. R. Fowler, Emerson Baxter, John McLaughlin, Frank Cummins, John Swick and Floyd Bathurst.

And, working in the galley and helping with the service in general will be a men's committee headed by Kenneth Davis and consisting of Warren Carlin, A. F. Dunham, Vance Weld, T. H. Milenius, Walter Sigworth, Carl Barter, Nestore Bartholomew, K. R. Fowler, Otto Peterson, C. L. Thompson, Emerson Baxter, John McLaughlin, Dr. Frank Cummins, William Cannon, John Swick and Floyd Bathurst.

Members of the church and their friends are all cordially invited to be present tomorrow night. The session of the church is financing the evening's entertainment and the program is in charge of the Married Couples Group, T. F. Eppley, president. The committee stresses the point that there are no tickets for sale, no admission will be charged and no collection will be taken.

THE YANKS HAVE LANDED

It is with a curious mixture of elation and anxiety that one reads the news that American troops have already landed in Northern Ireland.

We knew we were in the war, of course, when Pearl Harbor was attacked, when the Marines were making their stand at Wake Island, when MacArthur's Magnificents began their last-ditch defense of the Bataan Peninsula. An army in Europe, however, brings it all home with redoubled force. To the winning of the war in all areas and in every phase, we are committed.

There will, of course, be criticism of the sending of troops to Ireland while MacArthur needs them as badly in the Philippines, and the British and Dutch are so hard-pressed in the South Pacific. Such criticism is ill-founded. We have general assurance that such help as it is possible to send, is already on the way to those places.

That is all that can wisely be announced for the present, for the sake of the safety of those who go. The very secrecy of the movement to Ireland, trying though it may be to those who wait at home, is the best assurance that every step was taken to insure the soldiers' safety.

No American can greet this news without a spontaneous urge to dig a little deeper, work a little harder, resolve a little more firmly that these American soldiers shall be backed to the hilt with every possible support from the home front.

UNNECESSARY SILLY BUSINESS

Now that America is at war and even the most frivolous among us has had to face the fact that sad and serious times are before us all, Ruth Millett, who writes a column, "We, the Women," for NEA Service, suggests we dispense with the following, which she terms "Some Silly Business We Can Do Without:"

All mention of Tommy Manville, his wives and his ex-wives.
All the phony stories cooked up by press agents that link some dumb, blonde actress' name and bathing-suit-clad figure with the war effort.
All and any stunts that tie up commercial products improperly with the war effort—such as being the first to put sandbags around your night club in a midwestern city for the sole purpose of getting your night club's name in the paper.
All and any news about the doings of Cafe Society.
All pictures of bathing beauties lined up on the boardwalk in a V-for-Victory pattern to publicize your resort hotel.
All nominations of the glamor girl of the year.
All nominations of best dressed women.
The "cute" note in feminine styles.
In normal times, Miss Millett thinks we could take these: Details of the doings of over-publicized young heiresses who are having such a tough time keeping within their thousands-of-dollars-a-week budget.
Pictures of women whose interest in defense is just strong enough to get them to some committee meeting in time to have their pictures taken.
In normal times we could take quite a lot of such silly business. But these times are not normal. And so-called funny business like this is decidedly bad taste—and a bit nauseating to boot.

WEATHER FORECASTS

News that the groundhog has been placed under a ban as a weather forecaster this year, reminds that since early December weather forecasts carried by the Times-Mirror and other papers have been marked by brevity.

The report in this newspaper today covers only the forecast for the day and night. No hint is given as to what to expect the following day.

There is a reason for this. Broadcasting of weather reports contains information valuable to enemies of this country. Now the government restricts forecasts to a 26-hour period.

The old woodchuck is going to be terribly surprised when he emerges from his dug-out next Monday to find Uncle Sam has placed a muzzle on him so far as furnishing any information as to what to expect in the line of weather during the next six weeks.

A non-resident paid a fine of $10 and costs for running over a fire hose in Warren recently. Must be he hasn't heard about the scarcity of rubber.

Prime Minister Churchill has asked parliament to vote confidence in his government, and if you think his wish won't be granted, you've another think coming.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 28.—Is the new price bill, born of four months' congressional strife and strain, a dead duck before it even has a chance to try its wings and show its stuff?

Capital advocates of the Bernard Baruch theory of freezing all prices instead of selected prices, fear that it is. Their reasoning is that prices have risen so much faster since Pearl Harbor than they did in the preceding eighteen months that the only way inflation can be prevented now is through a much more drastic freezing of all prices than is called for by the administration's program of freezing only selected prices.

Before Pearl Harbor, wholesale prices were advancing at the rate of about 1 1/2 per cent a month. In the first month after Pearl Harbor the rise was 3 per cent and in one week it was 1 per cent. Increases on the main items—food, furniture and clothes—average about 15 per cent over the past year, but all items are up. Wholesale prices on farm products have gone up over 35 per cent and on food stuffs over 25 per cent.

The rise in wholesale prices has been faster than the rate of rise in the cost of living at the retail level—which speaks well for the effort which the retail merchants have made to hold prices down—but that can't keep up forever in the face of more rapidly advancing prices of wholesalers. Sooner, and not later, this can only mean that the consumer is going to be hit harder than ever. His reaction can be expressed in only one way—a demand for wage increases. When that comes, there you have the dizzy spiral which leads only upward to inflation.

Of course it's nice to have everyone getting a little more jack regardless of whether it comes in as wages or profits on a sale. The grief in this particular situation is that higher pay checks and bigger sales slips don't produce any more munitions—they make just the same quantity of battleships, bayonets or buttons cost more money which can come only from higher taxes and bigger debts. There is nothing new in that statement. It is old as the hills. It should be public axiom number one. But it apparently can't be repeated too often to make it stick.

It applies particularly to the present situation because prices now may be advancing faster than they can be controlled under the provisions of the new price administration law. It may take the Price Administration too long to swing into action, it may mean that an organization can be whipped into shape fast enough to handle these new spirals of inflation.

Up to the time the price bill was passed, Price Administrator Leon Henderson's organization had issued only about 75 price schedules, nearly all covering materials going into war production. Two-thirds of the principal commodities of general trade are still uncovered.

Perhaps the Office of Price Administration has felt that it should go a little slow in plastering price ceilings on the walls of rising prices till after the new price bill was passed. Unquestionably, Henderson's ceiling on peanut oil, cottonseed oil and other fats and oils was what roused the ire of the farm belt senators who have made the going so tough for the new price bill in the last month.

There is a further advantage—a psychological advantage to the idea of freezing all prices as of some given date. When this price bill goes into effect, Leon Henderson (Turn to Page Six)

Solomon Islands May Be Engulfed by Pacific War

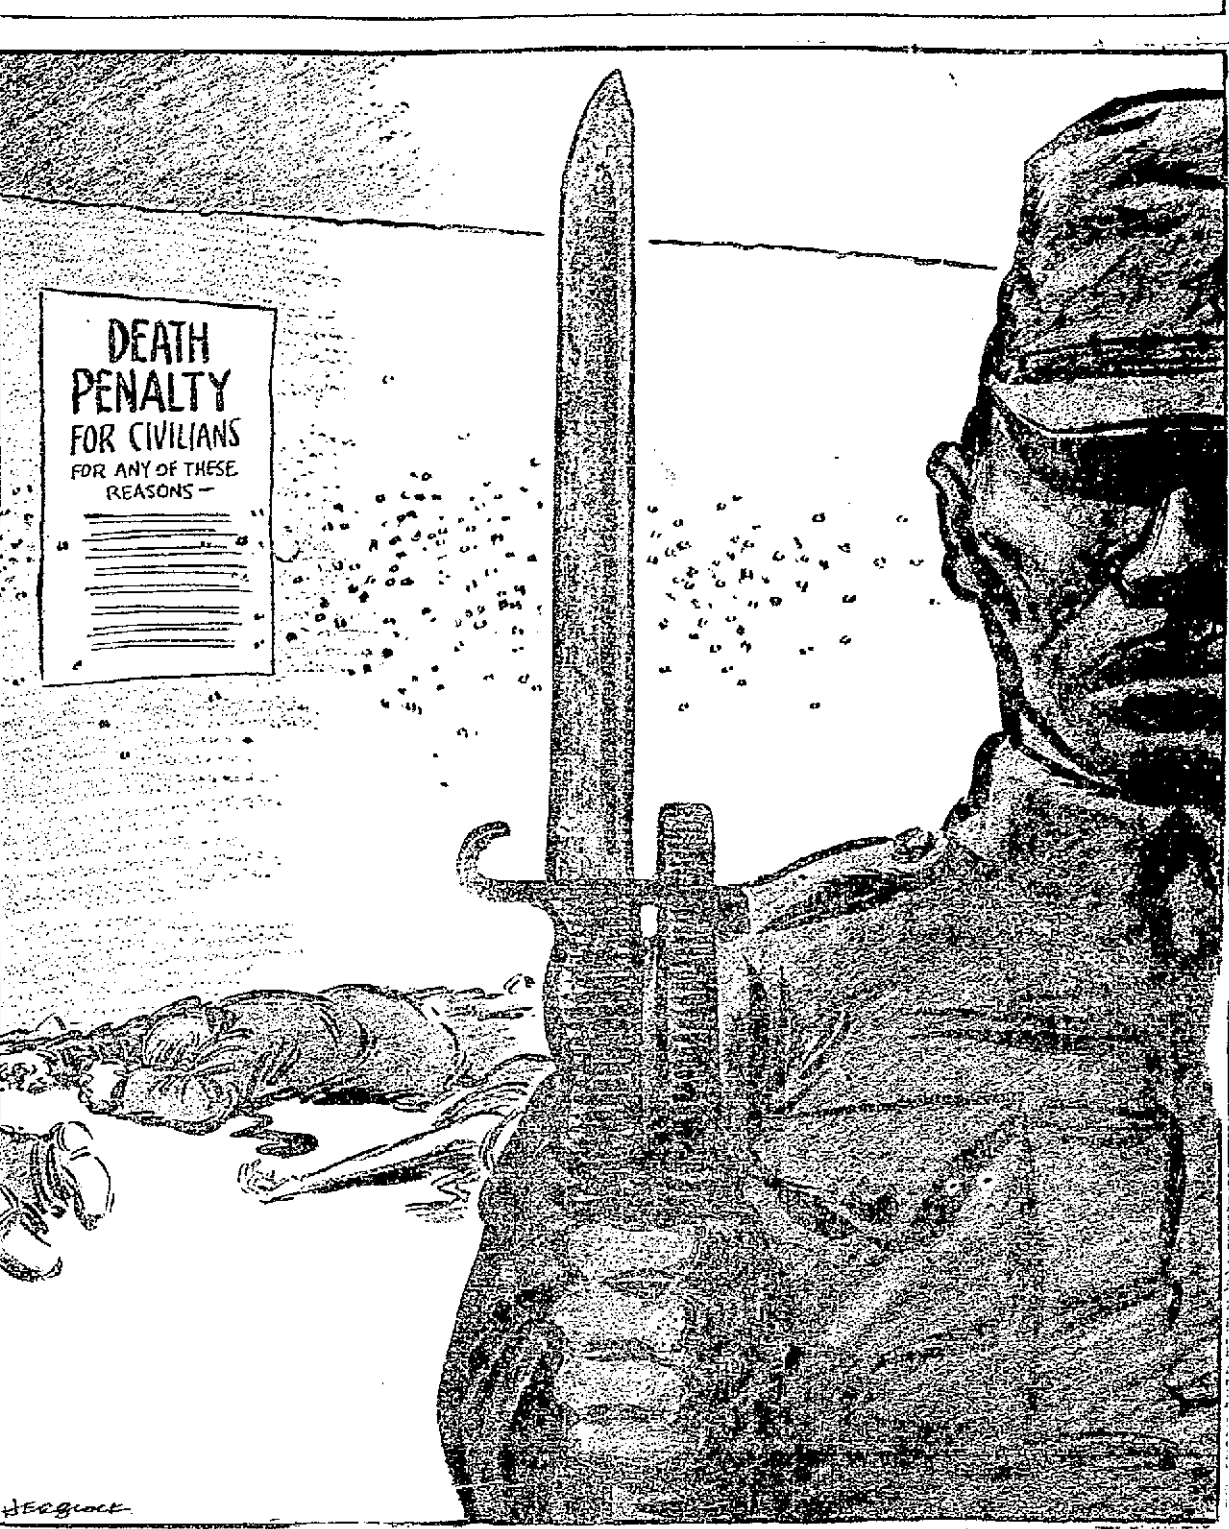

WAR in the Pacific, which expanded to new lands daily, may engulf the little-known Solomon Islands. The islands may be used as a base for Japanese attack on New Guinea or Australia. The United States, issued in 1942, shows a white man in a canoe, with a native man in a canoe nearby. The scene is set in a tropical lagoon with palm trees in the background.

Although the coming of the white man—missionaries, scientists and anthropologists—has had a profound effect on the attitude of the natives, there was a time when arrival of white visitors had no meaning: slavery. Slave traders, known as "blackbirders," had been busy in their bloody work on the islands.

When the slave trade was wiped out, the natives were still vindictive toward white men and the missionaries to touch their skin were killed.

In 1893, several of the islands were annexed by Great Britain. These taken over by Germany were mandated to Australia after World War I.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital in wartime: The lowly private seems to be coming into his own. In the House of Representatives, they are pointing with pride to Pvt. Frank C. Osmer of Haworth, N. J. Private Osmer was serving his third year in the House when he voted for war on Dec. 8 and immediately went out and enlisted. The 34-year-old representative is now at Camp Lee, Va., and according to proud cronies here, he wouldn't turn a political finger to get a commission.

Down at Fort Knox, Ky., the other day they named the main parade ground Brooks Field. The honor was for Pvt. Robert H. Brooks, a Negro and the first member of the armored forces killed in the present war. Private Brooks was killed in the Philippines the day after Pearl Harbor.

AND now along comes Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri to write another epic of a private into the Congressional Record. In this instance, the private was in the southern army in the Civil War.

The memento to Pvt. Johnny Allen, of Mississippi, gave the Senator an opportunity to quote a newspaper from his hallowick which said: "Let's not forget the private. He is the gentleman who bears the brunt of the battle. He is the hero of every American war—the best soldier in the world."

Pvt. Johnny Allen made considerable use of his lack of commission, too, when he was running for Congress against the Confederate General Tuckey. The dauntless general closed one of his speeches by saying: "Seventeen years ago last night, my fellow citizens, after a hard-fought battle on yonder hill, I pivouacked under yonder clump of trees. Those of you who remember, as I do, the times that tried men's souls, will not forget their humble servant when the primaries shall be held."

IN THOSE days, that was potent political medicine, but Private

NAME OFFICERS
FOR FIRE DEPT.
AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Jan. 27—All officers and heads of the Sheffield Volunteer Fire Department were re-elected at the department's annual meeting, held last night in the township building with twenty-six members in attendance.

Returned officers are: F. L. Borden, president; J. J. Wolfe, vice president; William Dalton, secretary-treasurer; Harry Mickel, statistician. These men will also serve as the officers of the firemen's relief association. Mr. Wolfe, whose term as trustee had expired, was re-elected a trustee for 3 years. Holdover trustees are C. R. McNeal and D. O'Leary.

The department heads are: Charles Slater, chief; Rudolph Samuelson, 1st assistant chief; David Ritchie Jr., 2nd assistant chief; Laverne Dahl, 3rd assistant chief.

Eight firemen who had completed a six-month probation period were elected to full membership in the department, which now numbers 40 members. The new members are: Harold Caldwell, Richard Curtin, Martin Gilbert, Stewart Hoffman, Richard McGuire, Paul Rockwell, John Schultz, Norman Williams.

Announcement was made by Chief Slater that a course of training in the fundamentals and newly developed methods of fire fighting, a course like that being given to the recently organized auxiliary fire department, has been arranged for the members of the regular department. Classes will be held weekly, on Tuesdays, with the first session scheduled for Feb. 3.

The department's annual meeting last night will be followed Wednesday evening by the organization's annual banquet. The ninth such event, the banquet will be held in the American Legion Home.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — E. Phillips Oppenheim has helped me run up many electric light bills, for I have spent scores of nights with the novels of this master of Monte Carlo intrigue. He delights in the salons and gaming room settings in which the mysterious young woman with the red lips nods significantly to the fat Prussian officer who is amiably losing a fortune to a sad-eyed young St. Louis man with curly hair.

During these situations the lights invariably go out, and when they come back on the fat Prussian officer is observed to be lying on his back gurgling out his life's blood from a slash in the throat cut by a platinum dagger. The young man with the sad eyes and the curly hair is gazing stupidly at a jade Buddha that he has unaccountably discovered in his pocket. As for the mysterious young woman with the red lips, she has disappeared....

THAT'S Oppenheim, and for him this talent has brought vast riches. It has enabled him to travel and study in far places, to own costly estates, and to utilize his leisure in such sports as yachting and grouse shooting. It is this last, this shooting, that concerns a letter he wrote a few days ago to the London Daily Express.... There is no flamboyant fiction here, no red lips and spinning wheel of fortune.

Says this teller of tales: "There are in Great Britain hundreds of thousands of elderly men whose favorite sport during their more vigorous days has been shooting of game birds. They have been used to the handling of shotguns since boyhood. Unfortunately they are too old for route marches or the full drill of the Home Guard. I suggest the formation of a Veteran Corps of the last-named body."

THERE could easily be one or two hundred thousand sporting guns at work when the invasion comes, and that should mean the shooting or the incapacitating of at least half that number of invaders. These veterans would be no expense whatever to the authorities. There need be no age limit, no medical examination and no uniform. My own twelve bore, repaired after a robust bill, is in readiness and my No. 4 cartridge over.

Biographical note: Oppenheim has just finished his autobiography, "The Pool of Memory," and it will be published sometime this spring. He was born in 1866, married in 1892, and since then has written nearly 70 books, most of which deal with espionage, traitors, international intrigue, war, and sophisticated continentalism. Recent titles have been "The Dumb Gods Speak," "And Still I Cheat the Gallows," "The Spy Master," "Envoy Extraordinary," and "The Curious Happenings to the Rooke Legatees." Until the outbreak of war his address was La Vauquedore, Guernsey, C.I.

When Barbara Stanwyck was 13 she was a bundle wrapped in a Brooklyn department store. In those days her name was Ruby Stevens.

The major middle west sectional championships is the Central States Tournament, which will be held in Chicago Feb. 17-20.

I played in the Central States a few years ago in Chicago, and remember one hand against my friend Robert W. Halpin. I needed a ninth trick on this particular hand, and tried to slip through a club trick before running off my eight cold tricks. But I recall Bob's big laugh when he said, "You wouldn't be looking for a birthday present from me, would you?" And up he went and set the contract.

On the opening lead dummy played low, East played the ten of hearts and I won with the four diamonds and three spades, and that club was not my real suit. But he figured all that in a flash, hopped right up with the ace of clubs and led a low heart.

I led a club and I don't know to this day how Bob Halpin figured out the hand. So far as I

Players Reminded Of Deadline For All Manuscripts

One of the most interesting features of the Warren Players Club program each season is the annual playwriting contest. First attempted four years ago under direction of Lawrence Riley, it has been held each ensuing year and the chosen plays have been presented by the club at a studio meeting.

The contest for this season is scheduled to close on February 1 and all Players Club members who desire to submit manuscripts of original plays are reminded again of that date.

They must be mailed to the Warren Players, Box 563, Warren, Pa., no later than February 2, or left with Mrs. Howard Huff at the Public Library on that date.

Printed rules for the contest are to be found on the Players Club bulletin board at the Women's Club or those wishing information may telephone Lester Muthert, chairman of the playwriting group, at 1036-R.

LUDLOW HIGH UPSETS SHEFFIELD CAGERS IN OVERTIME

Pattersons Topple Sheffield in First Playoff Game, 46-45

Snapping a three-game losing streak and an inferiority complex at one and the same time, the Warren Pattersons came from behind in one of the wildest basketball games this writer has seen this season last night to edge the Sheffield O'Connors in the first of two playoff games for the Y. M. C. A. Class A League first half championship.

The 46-45 score in favor of the local outfit eliminated the Sheffield O'Connors from further action this half, but not before they had given the winners a real test of strength and shooting ability.

Jack Zeeres, playing his first league game with the Pattersons, paced the scoring with 17 points, with Cliff Graham following behind, connecting for 11. McAvoy scored 17 for the losers with Fitch getting 13.

The O'Connors took a five point lead in the first quarter at 9-4, but lost it to the Pattersons, who led at halftime 19-18. In the third chapter the losers again took possession of the lead, however, with a 32-32 margin going into the final stanza.

The score volleyed back and forth for half of the final period before the sharpshooting of Zeeres and Graham clinched the contest, while Sheffield was still fighting desperately to overcome a small but complete lead.

Tomorrow night the Pattersons and Rock Cleaners battle in the final game for first half honors.

Last night's box score:

Bradford Dog Entered In Field Trial Event

Shuqualak, Miss., Jan. 28.—(P.)—Judges of the National Field Trial Club settled down today to the task of selecting a free-for-all champion from a field of 35 dogs.

Called out for this morning's first heat was Mercer Millie, pointer bitch owned by B. C. Goss of Cleveland, Ohio, and Surracho, a pointer dog owned by Frank Miller of Bradford, Pa.

Asira, a smooth-working pointer showing the fourth field trial of her career, won the derby title yesterday for her owner, A. C. McSage of New York.

Cats Storm Through Wolverine Defense to Lead at Half; Win On Last-Minute Goal by Juban

Sheffield, Jan. 28.—Far from enjoying their night off from the rigors of Class A North League play, the Wolverines, third-place club in that circuit, came a cropper in their non-league tilt with the Ludlow High School Giants, McKean County League, here last night and bowed to the visiting Orange and Black aggregation, 39-17.

To 40 in what was a very hectic, one overtime period contest.

Coached by "Bill" Cherney, an alumnus of Indiana State Teachers College, the Giants, probably the best team in Ludlow history, are built around one Johnny Juban, hard-playing, sharpshooting forward, who ran riot on the court here last night, connecting with 10 field goals and a trio of foul tosses to account for over half of Ludlow's point total and lead his team to their well-earned victory.

Johnny, who committed three personal fouls in the first quarter but who managed to evade the fourth to remain in the contest, banged the bucket for two goals in the first period, collected two more in the second, sank a pair of fouls in the third, blazed away for a foul and five goals in the fourth and then came through with another in the overtime to snatch the victory away from the Massamens.

It was a stunning and very disheartening defeat for the Wolverines, who meeting the scrappiest fighting team they have met all season, barring not even the Bradford Owls, surrendered an 8-4, first-quarter advantage to the visitors and were held off, despite a valiant rearguard battle, until just five seconds before the end of regulation time, at which auspicious moment Jimmy Campasino sank a foul to knot the count at 38 and send the battle into overtime.

The Wolverine partisans went wild with joy when, early in the overtime, Nick Otto, connected with a foul to boost the Wolverines into the lead, 39-38, but their joy was shortlived as the pestiferous Juban a few seconds later got the ball and wheeled in his game-winning shot. There was time yet for shots by Fitzgerald and Otto, but both times the ball evaded the hoop and the exciting contest came to an end with Ludlow still on top.

Sheffield won the prelim, 28 to 17.

Gustine, Wilkie Sign New Pirate Contracts

Pittsburgh, Jan. 28.—(A.P.)—Second Baseman Frankie Gustine and Aldon Wilkie, a left handed pitcher, returned signed 1942 contracts to the Pittsburgh Pirates, President Bill Benswanger announced.

Wilkie appeared in 26 games for the Bucs last year, his first in the majors, and finished the season with a record of two victories and four defeats. Gustine, a regular for two years, hit .270 in 119 games last season.

The Pirates now have 16 players under contract for the 1942 season.

Youngsville Pressed To Edge Sugar Grove By 30 to 25 Margin

Sugar Grove's crew of basketball warriors fell last night before Youngsville on the latter's court, but not until they had given the Eagles varsity a terrific spanking and the Red and White second team pulled the game from the blaze by a 30-25 count.

The Grovers held a margin of about 19 to 8 over the Stockdale varsity charges, but the second team produced the edge with which the Eagles scored their first triumph in the last four starts.

Jack Schumacher paced the attack for the winners, but a sub named Smith clinched the ball game with a pair of baskets in the last two minutes of the encounter.

Haggerty led the Grove with 12. Stuart following with 10. Youngsville and Sugar Grove fought on even terms during the first quarter, but the Eagles went ahead 18-11 at halftime.

The Grove came out for the second half and pounded the hoop to trail by a scant 25-23 margin going into the final stanza, but were stopped cold in the last period with only two points while the winners were collecting 11.

Sugar Grove and Lander play Friday night, while Youngsville will invade Rocky Grove for their third league start, still seeking their first victory.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

EXPECT CLIMAX OF BANNER BASKETBALL SEASON TUESDAY NIGHT WHEN CHAMPIONS AND DRAGONS WILL PLAY FOR RED CROSS

This has been, and is still, a banner season for outstanding basketball presentations in Warren, and the campaign may reach its climax next Tuesday night, when, unless Bradford is upset in league action Friday night, bringing about a possible tie should Warren win, the current edition of Dragons will battle the 1937-38 champions, or most of them, at least, for the benefit of the American Red Cross, greatest name among institutions in this confused world today.

In the first place, fans are being offered two fine teams to provide battle on Beatty court, and it'll be good again to see the former high school stars back in togs.

Secondly, what with the Red Cross one of the foremost necessities today and one of the most important organizations which America has been called upon to aid financially, every townsfolk with a drop of sporting blood will be in Beatty gym to not only see a whale of a ball game, but to also give his part, which may be the difference between life and death to some soldier boy before this war is over. (P. S.—Another item of interest to the fans will be the fact that the '37-'38 quint will be out to win, not to give just a thrilling exhibition.)

There's a feud on, though it's mild, between Warren's two top coaches, Heinie Kolpien of the Dragons and Coach Luke Noecker of the Champions. If you'd care to examine the bench, you'll find a grove in the plank near the press desk in Beatty gym where the history teacher slid around during the Collegian game (that is, until the third quarter, when he found out the thing was connected with sports about as much as a first class professional wrestling match), and that's where the veteran court expert, who originated the pep shot, plans to recline this time while his boys go out to tear the Blue and White hoopers apart. Everything considered, with both sides fighting for one cause, local followers of the cage sport can prepare for a real contest and a bang-up night of fun when the Dragons and the Champions do battle next Tuesday. If you want to be on the outcome, you can write your own ticket for this one, and if you're a Dragon rooster, plenty of Champion supporters may be found around the northern corner of Times Square. Meanwhile, the Dragons still have a little debate to settle Friday night at Kane, where a victory can't hurt them, and may do a lot of good.

Quickies . . . Tommy Halloran, who will succeed Dr. Graves in the dental office in the Warren Bank and Trust Building, has his own claim to fame in the sports world, as did Graves, who was an outstanding amateur golfer . . . Halloran was an All-America football player at Pitt in 1921 . . . Later he coached at Thiel through 1923-29 seasons . . . Also played professional ball with the Chicago Bears . . . Art McKeehan, who'll play with the Champions against the Dragons next Tuesday, reports that Noecker has his boys working out nights in McKeehan's basement . . . Starting at the bottom, and working up, I see . . . Bradford is the best offensive and defensive team in the Northern loop at the present time . . . Sheffield is second in offense, Warren in defense . . . The Owls have allowed opponents 125 points, Warren has given up 156 . . . Bradford High school's freshman team has won five straight ball games, and the youngsters go after No. 6 Saturday afternoon at Port Allegany . . . Local bowlers will be interested to know that Joe Young is leading a large field of bowlers in the Bradford city championship tournament at the halfway mark . . . In six games he collected 1181 pins, 23 ahead of Sam Hogan . . . Which reminds us to ask, why no city-wide keggers' event in this burgh?

The City League tore the pins apart last night as they went crazy for high scores, and got them, in one of the wildest nights on the alleys the town's fastest league has experienced this season. Dick Check belted the maples for 671, and Harry Wooster hit 662 to lead, while a flock of 500 scores edged the 600 mark were tallied by the majority of members of the circuit.

The keggers added up no less than 26 games of 200 or better, 14 of them being honor roll scores. Failure to be consistent on the part of many was the reason there were not more 600 totals.

With Hulings leading the attack, getting a 215 first game and a total of 508, the Ericksons swamped the Bjers for four points at the Coneywango Club. Team totals, 2596 to 2488.

Oscar's Restaurant and the Central Grocery both took four points on the Moose slides from respective opponents of Carlo's Tavern and Adams Market.

Tickets Go On Sale For Red Cross Benefit Cage Contest

Tickets are now on sale for the Red Cross benefit basketball game to be played next Tuesday evening at Beatty between the 1937-38 high champions of District Nine and this year's varsity Dragon squad, it was announced today by Art McKeehan, in charge of the advance sale.

No season tickets may be used for this contest, it was emphatically stated, since it is a benefit with all expenses being taken care of by the Warren High School Athletic Association, and the tickets sold will make up the purse which will be presented to the Red Cross following the game.

It was also pointed out that there will be a special student ticket, but that school pupils may not purchase these in advance, must get theirs at the gate Tuesday night before the contest starts.

Four prominently located stores in this community have already been allotted tickets to sell to adults at fifty cents per ducat, including the following: Bob Ritchie's B. & B. Smoke Shop, the Texas Lunch, Cozy Corner and Eddie Stewart's barber shop.

It is expected that McKeehan will take a number of the tickets to nearby communities today, and possibly spread them around at one or two other local establishments.

Besides the above mentioned stores, several members of the high school squad, of the ex-schoolboy passers, and of the WHS student body and alumni are selling the passboards also, and in addition to this, the same may be purchased by calling at the sports department of the Times-Mirror.

McKeehan also announced the complete roster of the Champions, who will be guided by Coach Luke Noecker, which is as follows: John Dahler, Bob Traub, Dick Underwood, Bob Chase, Tom Conway, Ken Whisner, Willard Zerbe, Hank Wolfe, "Springs" Johnson, Bob Beatty, and McKeehan.

May Not Be An Extra Session Governor Says

(From Page One)

January 28, when a governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs will be chosen.

But James earlier had indicated the prospective session would not be convened for at least two weeks and maybe not at all.

The governor said "I can't promise you that" in response to a direct question as to whether there would be a call. He said it would be improbable that any call would go out to assemble the legislators next week, in any case.

If the Democrats fail to submit a complete, approved plan for reapportioning the congressional seats, as the Republicans have done, "there will be no session at all."

Pennsylvania's standing in the 1940 census cost her a seat in congress. The legislature adjourned last July without passing a bill cutting the district from 34 to 33 as required, and failure to enact a measure in time for the primary would mean election of all 33 members at large, instead of by districts.

modities affected by price orders, except farmers and fishermen, would be licensed. After one violation and a warning, the administrator could ask the courts to suspend a license for as long as 12 months.

Criminal penalties up to $5,000 fine and two years in jail also are provided.

Appeals could be taken from OPA orders, either to the administrator, a special court of federal judges, or the supreme court.

Wages are exempt from limitations as are rates charged by publishers of newspapers, books and periodicals, press associations, railroads, public utilities, radio, motion pictures or other theaters, outdoor advertising firms, doctors and lawyers.

considered to have his backing. He was Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, ambassador at large to exiled governments in London. Guffey said President Roosevelt had told him Biddle was "doing great work over there."

He said Biddle thought he could best serve his country "by remaining in London."

No mention was made of former Governor George H. Earle, minister to Bulgaria who is enroute to his country from his post in Sofia, although some elements in the party are quietly boosting him for a return to the executive mansion.

BROTHER INDICTED FOR MURDER OF HIS SISTER

Kansas City, Jan. 28.—(P)—George W. Welsh, 28, was indicted by a county grand jury today on a charge of slaying and mutilating his pretty 24-year-old sister, Leila Adele Welsh, in her bedroom last March.

The indictment—climaxing weeks of investigation—was drawn by the attorney general's office at Jefferson City and returned to Circuit Judge Marion D. Walturn.

Her brother was summoned before the jury for questioning when he returned here from California for the Christmas holidays.

Soon after the slaying he had told officers that he slept on a divan in the living room near his sister's bedroom the night of the murder.

Long Term Strategy Revealed

to conduct the amphibious operations which it is contemplated may be necessary to prosecute the present war to a successful conclusion.

Churchill, meanwhile, had told parliament that the United States was being depended upon for transport and supply ships. When they are ready, he said, "we shall be able to move across the ocean next year, two, three, and even four times as large armies as the considerable forces we are able to handle at present."

Although Churchill said that a swift redistribution of Allied forces was directed on Dec. 12, there was no indication of what may have been involved beyond "President Roosevelt's assertion in a press conference late yesterday that America was sending all the help it could to the southwest Pacific area and that six to ten American expeditionary forces are in various localities of the world."

Beyond this immediate defense action was the broader, long-term strategy of deploying land-sea forces over the whole world.

The naval committee report said there were "many confidential details" about the special type vessels being built under the emergency program, and there was speculation that they would include substantial numbers of ships for landing operations on hostile shores.

In the Pacific, the thinly-strengthened Japanese army and navy would be particularly vulnerable to sudden blows by a powerful amphibious force. Japan itself, with its 12 main islands and 4,000 smaller islands, offers a tempting target.

In the southwestern Pacific area, as President Roosevelt indicated at his press conference yesterday, the immediate strategy of the United Nations is to hold Australia and the Dutch East Indies as bases for a Pacific striking force.

While Pacific and Atlantic striking forces are being built up, the British and American navies have as their main tasks the protection of Atlantic and Pacific supply routes.

The Red army newspaper, Red Star, said assault troops were at the approaches of important centers of German resistance in that snow-smothered area, and of these Rzhnev, a railroad center on the upper Volga 130 miles from the capital, is outstanding.

British bombers—To be joined eventually by United States fliers in assaults upon Axis targets by report of Prime Minister Churchill—struck again last night at the docks of Brest and Boulogne, on the German-occupied French coast.

ANTHRACITE REGION CALLED "DESPERATE"

BY JOHN B. CAMPBELL

Shamokin, Jan. 28.—(P)—A congressional commission investigating the possibility of bringing new industry into the anthracite region was told today that conditions were "desperate" and that immediate help was needed.

Bank assets have depreciated 25 per cent in the last ten years said W. H. R. Unger, president of the Market Street National bank of Shamokin.

U. S. Senators Joseph P. Guffey, Democrat, and James J. Davis, Republican, assured a mass meeting of civic and business leaders that everything possible would be done to bring new business into the district.

FOUR ARE HURT IN AUTO CRASH NEAR SHEFFIELD

Four persons were injured, one seriously, in an auto accident which occurred on U. S. route 6, near Sheffield, about 9:30 o'clock in a head-on collision of two cars, believed caused by the icy condition of the highway.

Most seriously hurt is Mrs. Minnie Lindblade, 57, of Sheffield, passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Stroup, 37, also of Sheffield. Mrs. Lindblade has scalp lacerations, possible skull fracture and is suffering considerably from shock. She is in the Warren General Hospital.

Also in the hospital are Mrs. Stroup, who has a compound fracture of the right ankle and scalp lacerations, and Robert Valone, of Clarion, driver of the second car, who has a lacerated scalp.

A fourth person, Mrs. Anna Viropoulos, 49, of Stoneham, suffered a fracture of the left ankle but was discharged from the hospital after treatment. She was also in the Stroup car.

The accident occurred, according to Private K. Ed McCoy, of the state motor police, when a Valone, apparently lost control of his car while traveling toward Sheffield, swerved across the road and crashed into the Stroup machine, proceeding in the opposite direction.

The crash occurred at the west end of the Cray Farms, directly in front of the home of Mrs. Lillian Kingensmith, on a straight stretch of road.

Damage to the two machines was estimated at approximately $600. The Stroup car was taken to the Jones Garage in Sheffield, while the Valone machine was taken to the Highway Garage. The injured were brought here in ambulances of the Borden Funeral Home at Sheffield.

Washington, Jan. 28.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull today congratulated Aranha, Brazilian foreign minister and chairman of the inter-American meeting at Rio de Janeiro, on the "progressive development of inter-American cooperation."

Hull's message, in answer to a message from Aranha, described the action taken at the Rio conference as an example of the "inspiring harmony of the American peoples."

La Paz, Bolivia, Jan. 28.—(P)—Informed sources said today that Fuyaitari Irie, Japanese charge d'affaires, had delivered a note to the Bolivian foreign office hinting that Japan might blockade the South American coast, and that Bolivia's overseas trade if severed relations with the Axis.

Bolivia's foreign minister at the Rio de Janeiro conference announced that Bolivia was going to break off with the Axis, but no formal action has been reported.

The Powell was the eighth ship officially reported sunk by marauding Axis submarines off the Atlantic coast since the United States entered the war.

The navy reported that nothing had been heard from the Pan Maine, 7,256-ton tanker with a normal complement of 46 since it flashed yesterday afternoon that it had been attacked. This gave rise to a belief that it may have eluded the enemy, a spokesman said.

The torpedo burst into the Powell shortly after 2 a. m. (E. S. T.) Tuesday.

Captain T. J. Harrington, of Baltimore, was among the missing.

Berlin (from German Broadcasts), Jan. 28.—(P)—The Berlin radio said today two United States tankers had been sunk in new submarine operations, listing them as the Pennmar, 5,868 tons, and the Francis E. Powell, 7,067 tons.

(The broadcast made no reference to the Pan Maine, 7,256-ton tanker which flashed a report yesterday afternoon that she had been attacked. The Pennmar had not been mentioned in American announcements.)

JEALOUS SUITER HELD FOR SHOOTING BRIDE

Mnorsville, Jan. 28.—(P)—PA jealous former suitor was held by police today pending the outcome of wounds of Mrs. Eleutheria Delaney Drobisik, pretty 26-year-old bride of two weeks who was shot down yesterday as she tried to barricade herself in her beauty shop.

A rookie policeman, Elmer Blair arrested Paul Otruba, 29, at Williamsport last night after a five-block chase through that community 50 miles from here. Blair said the former South Williamsport man had a pistol in his possession.

He was brought back here, where Police Chief Edgar Lewis identified him as a "former sweetheart" of the girl.

BLACKOUT CHIEF IS NAMED FOR WARREN COUNTY

Appointment of Police Chief George F. Haehn as blackout chief for Warren county was announced last night at a meeting of the county defense council, held at the Y. M. C. A. At the same time it was stated that Chief Haehn will name an assistant from the local police department who will have direct charge of blackout activities here.

In attendance at the meeting was A. L. Cotton, of Pittsburgh, district representative of the state defense council, who praised the local organization for the fine work which is being done in Warren county.

It was stated today by Allen M. Gibson, chairman of the county defense council, that as soon as the blackout organization is completed, an application will be made to the U. S. Army for permission to hold a practice blackout here.

It was explained that in all practice blackouts, the army makes a check to determine the effectiveness of the trial.

Community defense councils are being formed in the smaller towns of the county for the purpose of supervising activities in those places and handling problems of particular interest to the individual communities. These community councils will cooperate with the county council and each chairman will be a member of the central organization.

Community chairmen announced today include Frank Handyside, of Sheffield; W. C. Tompsett, of Tidioute, and I. A. Schnell, of Youngsville. Others are to be named later.

About 5 members of the county council were in attendance at last night's meeting.

STATE LEADER OF PROHIBITION PARTY IS DEAD

George D. Harger, 72, of Crafton, Pennsylvania state chairman of the Prohibition party for more than 10 years and a prominent leader in the prohibition movement for 50 years, died last night at his summer home at Chautauque, N. Y.

He had been ill of a heart ailment for the last six years.

Harger became interested in the prohibition movement as a youth during church revival meetings in his home town of Rome, N. Y. Subsequently he held party posts in Oswego and Geneva, N. Y., going to Pittsburgh in the early 1920's.

During the past two years he had carried on a far-flung speaking campaign, appearing at party and ministerial conventions and in church pulpits throughout the east.

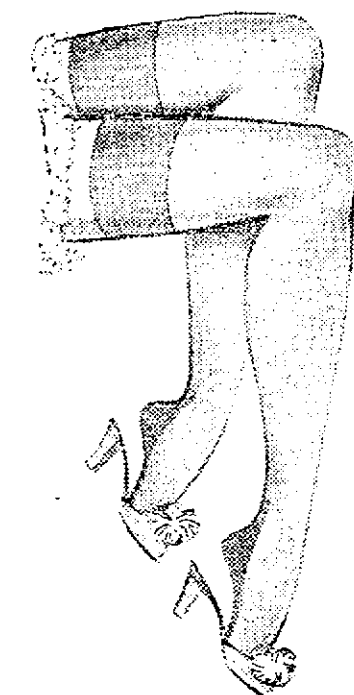

He was a trustee of the National Temperance and Prohibition Council, former secretary and trustee of the Prohibition Foundation, former director of the International Reform Prohibition Foundation, former director of the Internal Reform Federation, and former vice national chairman of the Prohibition party.

Funeral services and burial will be held in Chautauque Friday. Surviving are the widow, two sons, William L., student at Grove City College, and James Norvin Harger, Chautauque; a daughter, Mrs. Lee A. Spencer, of Crafton; a sister, Mrs. Ella Storm, of Rome, N. Y., and a granddaughter, Betty Lee Spencer, Crafton.

According to figures released by the California State Employment Service, the airplane industry is currently employing 136,000 workers, and the 150,000 mark will be passed shortly.

A Frenchman, Leon Scott, made an unsuccessful attempt to record sound in 1855, 22 years before Thomas Edison's experiments succeeded.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 20

WHAT IS A "FAMILY"?

"In one household" is a phrase which confronts many taxpayers when they make out their income tax returns. What do the regulations mean when they classify as the head of the family one who actually supports and maintains "in one household" a certain number of dependents for which he is allowed a personal exemption of $1,500 as the head of a family?

Income tax regulations are not narrow in interpreting this phrase. It may mean the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, living quarters in a hotel, or such other place as she or he may occupy as a temporary or permanent residence.

It is not always necessary that a taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof the entire year in order that he be allowed the exemption given the head of a family. If the common home is maintained, and the parent is away much of the time on business, or a child is away at school or on a visit, that is still "one household," and the exemption is allowed. If it is unavoidable for a parent to keep his dependent children with relatives, or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere—that constitutes "one household." But a person who gives the dependent of another a home is not, under the income tax regulations, the head of a family.

Another term that may be, in some cases, confusing or perplexing to many taxpayers is "living together," in the case of a husband and wife. Again the income tax regulations are liberal in interpreting a phrase which, precisely defined, might do an injustice to a taxpayer. When a common home is maintained, and it becomes necessary for the husband to be away on business occasionally and temporarily, or the wife is absent on a visit, the $1,500 exemption still applies. The relation is not

FLYING CADETS TO GET EXAMS AT PITTSBURGH

Youths of Warren and vicinity who are interested in joining the Aviation Cadets of the U. S. Army Air Corps will be taken to Pittsburgh next Monday for their final examinations before being enlisted in the officers training branch of the service. It was announced today by H. D. Baker, chairman of the aviation committee of the Warren Lodge of Elks.

Aviation Cadet enlistments are being sponsored by Elks Lodges throughout the country as a part of the organization's patriotic service.

Nine young men who passed their physical examinations in Erie a short time ago will receive their mental examinations at the Pittsburgh enlistment center next Monday. Those who pass will be sworn in immediately and then furloughed for a period of about ten days to permit them to return home and take care of their personal affairs.

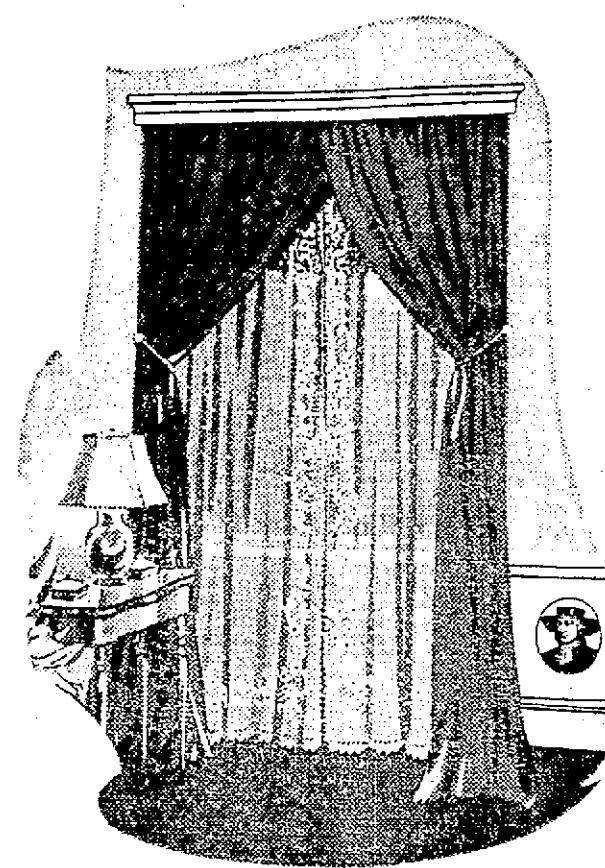

In addition to the nine who already have passed their physical examinations, a large number of other young men have signified their desire to enter the Aviation Cadets. Any of these who have had a recent physical examination or who take one this week will be taken to Pittsburgh for their final physical test next Monday.

Those who pass their physical examinations in Pittsburgh on Monday will be kept there over night at government expense and will be given their mental tests on Tuesday. It was announced that those who pass these requirements also will be sworn in and will be subject to call within ten days or less.

Young men between the ages of 18 and 26 who are interested in the Aviation Cadets may secure necessary papers for enlistment at the office of H. D. Baker, 211 West Third avenue, starting tomorrow afternoon. Those in the group who have not passed their physical examinations must have all papers complete before going to Pittsburgh next week.
